THE ELECTIONS.

The first general election to the new North-West legislature is over, and although the returns are scarcely complete, as much is known of the complexion of the new assembly as will be known until the public has had an opportunity to judge of its character and merits by its work. It differs from the late council in two important particulars. Part of the late council, the appointed members, represented only the federal government, and the remainder represented only certain sections of the North-West, and not the whole Territory. The new assembly will represent only the people of the North-West, and all the people have had the opportunity of being represented in it. At the same time every means has been taken to prevent a straight verdict of the people being given on North-West matters, or where that was impossible nothing was spared to secure a verdict favorable to the present administration of Territorial affairs. Federal government influence and the votes of federal government officials were unsparingly used to defeat popular opinion, with what success cannot be fully known until the assembly formulates its views and takes action upon them.

The late council comprised 14 elected and seven ex-officio and appointed members, including the lieutenant-governor, who had a second or casting vote in case of a tie. The assembly comprises 22 elected members, who sit apart from the lieutenant-governor. Assiniboia's representation has been increased from seven to eleven. Alberta's from five to six and Saskatchewan's from one to five. Of the members of the council Messrs. Secord, Jelly, Ross, Sutherland, Haultain, Cayley, Wilson and probably Turriff have been re-elected, and Hughes of Prince Albert and Cunningham of St. Albert defeated. This result may fairly be claimed as an endorsement of the late council, but whether that endorsement is due to the approval of the people of the course of the re-elected members or to the government assistance exerted in behalf certainly of some of them does not yet appear. Taking the result as an endorsement of the late council it must be accepted as an expression of the people in favor of a larger measure of responsible government for the Territories, and also as indicating a desire for a change either in the liquor law of the North-West or in the method of its administration, for on these two points, if on any, the late council based its appeal to the electors. It is to be hoped that the new assembly will lose no time in taking useful action regarding them.

Petitions and letters strongly protesting against the appointment of Dewdney as minister of the interior have been poured into Ottawa. The kick comes from the Ontario Tories. In consequence Sir John has arranged to go to Toronto and see the dissatisfied ones. Birmingham, the Tory organizer of Ontario, says he fears a split in the party. While the eastern conservatives protest, the western papers are nearly unanimous in pressing the appointment. Sir John is reported as saying that a western man must be chosen as the work of the department will be mostly in connection with the west. The choice in that case is between Dewdney and Davin and the former seems to be the man. Sir John will ultimately get the eastern man to see as he does and so it may be considered settled that the mantle of Thos. White will fall on Dewdney. Whether it will fall on worthy shoulders or not is doubtful. One thing is certain that if he would succeed the reforms projected by his predecessor must be carried out, and the land laws placed on a stable and satisfactory basis and kept there.

T. C. Power & Bro. have a letter in the last issue of the Calgary Tribune regarding the beef contract let by the department at Ottawa for the supply of the various Indian agencies in the North-West. The letter asserts that the tender of the firm mentioned was the lowest, and that, notwithstanding, the contract was given to the Cochrane company and another firm, at Power & Bro.'s prices. The letter concludes: "We claim that the tender was a fair and legitimate one and as it was the lowest we were entitled to the award and not to a rejection on assumed technicalities, and the use of our prices as a basis for other parties to fill upon."

DOMINION DAY.

As the first of July fell on Sunday last, the usual celebration was held on Monday, the 2nd. A large amount of prize money had been subscribed, and the turn-out of competitors and spectators was very good. The sports were held on the race course, in rear of town. The greater part of the day was fine, but a squall of wind and rain about two o'clock in the afternoon drove many of the spectators to shelter, in the town, for a short time. It did not interrupt the sports, however, and the remainder of the day was all that could be desired. The sports were commenced about eleven o'clock and were concluded about seven. Everything passed off quietly and agreeably, with credit to the committee, of which Hon. R. Hardisty was president, H. C. Wilson, M. D., vice-president, John Looby treasurer, and A. E. ## ELECTION DAY.

Saturday last was election day in this district and as it was to be the conclusion of a very sharp, though short, campaign it was welcomed by all parties concerned. Almost the whole of the three preceding weeks had been rainy, and the roads were in a fearful state, but Saturday was fine throughout. The following were the deputy returning officers at the various polling places. Edmonton, C. H. Connon, with G. A. Watson and R. Strachan scrutineers for Wilson and Cunningham; Jas. McDonald scrutineer for Oliver, and W. Rowland Cree interpreter. South Edmonton, W. Stiff; Peace Hills, F. Lucas; Clover Bar, St. G. Jellett; Ft. Saskatchewan, W. G. Ross; Beaver Lake, Jas. Pruden; Victoria, G. F. Tupper; Whitefish Lake, J. E. Ingraham; Lac la Biche, H. Robertson; Belmont, R. Coleman; Sturgeon, Geo. Sutherland; Stony Plain, A. McNabb; St. Albert, J. U. Prieur, but as he was absent at Ft. Saskatchewan H. W. McKenny acted in his stead; Lac Ste. Anne, T. Taylor, Athabasca Landing, W. Leslie Wood. Teams were out bright and early so that, when, by 9 o'clock standard time, or about 8:30 sun time, the polls were opened, a wagon load or two of the free and independent were ready to poll their votes. At the Edmonton poll Wilson and Cunningham took the lead in the early morning, but at noon the poll stood Oliver 54, Wilson 53, Cunningham 40, Maloney 15. About this time Mr. Cunningham arrived from St. Albert to find out how his interests stood, and was highly pleased to see that he was holding his own so well. He returned at once to St. Albert, where the heat of the fight was expected to be and where Messrs. Wilson and Maloney also were. After Mr. Cunningham's departure his stock dropped rapidly, and he only secured 12 more votes from some 75 voters or a possible 150 votes. Supporters of the two Edmonton candidates plumped each for his own man right along during the whole afternoon. For some time after noon Oliver led Wilson by from six to eight votes. Then it was a tie for about an hour although votes were being hustled in on both sides and finally at five o'clock the count stood: Wilson 104, Oliver 95, Cunningham 52, Maloney 21. One hundred and eighty one voters had offered, of whom 176 had voted, each entitled to two votes, five refusing to be sworn. A total of 272 votes were actually cast for the four candidates. There were not 176 voters in the Edmonton polling division, but as the election law allowed, a number from other polling divisions voted at Edmonton. Considering the opportunity offered by the absence of voters' lists there was little repeating done, and although the fight from start to finish was for blood, everything passed off quietly and with less than the usual amount of hard words. The telephone line to St. Albert had been cut the night before, so that definite news was not to hand from there and the uncertainty regarding the outlying districts was too great to admit of much jubilation on either side. When, however, the returns from St. Albert, Ft. Saskatchewan, South Side, Belmont, Clover Bar, Sturgeon, Stony Plain and Victoria came in during the evening it became pretty evident that—as it afterwards turned out—Wilson and Oliver were elected and Cunningham and Maloney defeated; the only question remaining being that of majorities.

At St. Albert matters did not progress as quietly. The deputy returning officer, J. U. Prieur, left Ft. Saskatchewan early in the morning and left H. W. McKenny in his place. A Prince, on behalf of Mr. Maloney objected, and there was some dispute, but the poll was opened. The large vote at St. Albert made that polling place of special interest, and the presence of three of the candidates, Messrs. Cunningham, Wilson and Maloney and of several gentlemen from Edmonton on behalf of Mr. Oliver, added to the interest. The votes came in slowly in the forenoon and were rather split up. At noon the poll was closed for an hour, when the vote stood: Cunningham 48, Wilson 39, Maloney 28, Oliver 22. Mr. Cunningham utilized the noon hour in visiting Edmonton to get the returns there, and made one of the quickest trips on record, considering the roads. Had he not made that trip he would probably not have been to-day regretting his defeat. He had five-sixths of the large vote at St. Albert as well as that of Lac Ste. Anne and Lac la Biche well in hand, to vote for him alone, or for himself and any of the other candidates whom he chose. Arrangements had been made by which he was to give the second vote of these three settlements to Wilson in return for the second votes of Wilson's supporters in town. On arriving in town he found that, as per agreement, Wilson's supporters had, apparently, polled up well for him, and returning to the Lake he whooped the votes in for himself and Wilson in great shape during the afternoon, totally unaware of the fact, owing to the telephone line remaining down, that matters had taken a different turn at Edmonton as soon as he left. A courier from Edmonton who arrived during the afternoon informed him of the true state of affairs, and Wilson took as sudden a drop at the Lake as Cunningham's had at Edmonton, but it was too late to help Cunningham. At the close of the poll the count stood: Cunningham 111, Wilson 78, Maloney 46, Oliver 33; a total of 268 votes cast by 148 voters. This result was taken at St. Albert as showing the success of the combination, and ensuring the election of Wilson and Cunningham, and great was the jubilation in consequence.

At Ft. Saskatchewan the event of the day was the almost solid plump vote cast by the mounted police force there for Wilson, while Cunningham got a fair support, and Oliver received just five police votes. The farming community there, however, as at the other polling places, stood by the latter and Mr. Maloney, and at its close the poll stood: Wilson 68, Cunningham 30, Oliver 27, Maloney 16.

The farming districts of South Side, Belmont, Sturgeon, Stony Plain, Beaver Lake and the English half-breed settlement of Victoria went strong for Oliver, and Clover Bar was a tie between Wilson and Oliver, giving Maloney a good support and none to Cunningham. Lac la Biche and Lac Ste. Anne, French half-breed settlements, were parties to the combination which led to the sacrifice of their own would-be representative, and polled big for Cunningham and Wilson with Maloney and Oliver far behind. ## ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

EDMONTON, 2nd July, 1888.

WILLIAM ANDERSON, Esq.,

EDMONTON.

DEAR SIR,—As you are about to take your departure from Edmonton where you have for some years discharged the duties of Indian agent, to assume a position elsewhere, your many friends here cannot allow you to do so without expressing their regret that ill health should have rendered a change to some less laborious position necessary. They would wish to express to you the very great esteem in which they have always held you for your personal qualities also for the honorable way in which you have discharged your duties as an official of the government.

You will carry with you our best wishes for your future welfare, and you can rest assured that you leave none but friends behind you.

It was our wish to have offered you something you could have kept as a souvenir of Edmonton and your many friends here, but as such could not be procured we would ask you to accept instead the accompanying purse.

Accept for Mrs. Anderson your family and yourself our best wishes for a safe and speedy journey to your destination and our hopes that your new position will be both an acceptable and pleasant one.

Signed on behalf of subscribers,
HARRISON S. YOUNG.

EDMONTON, 3rd July, 1888.
HARRISON S. YOUNG, Esq.,
EDMONTON.

DEAR SIR,—It but feebly expresses my feelings to say that I was overcome by surprise on receiving from your hands this morning the address and accompanying purse from friends in Edmonton, as I was not conscious of having done anything to call for such an expression of public feeling.

For the kind words contained therein please accept my warmest thanks. It will always be to me a source of pride to remember that I received such a mark of approval of my conduct as an official from such a community as Edmonton.

For the handsome purse you have given me, it is so unexpected that I hardly know what to say, but that I accept it in the spirit in which it is offered, as a souvenir of Edmonton and my friends here, although feeling that I have done nothing to merit it.

Accept on behalf of Mrs. Anderson and myself our thanks for your kind wishes for our future welfare. Rest assured that wherever we may be Edmonton and the friends we leave behind us will never be forgotten.

I am afraid I have but poorly expressed my gratitude for what I have received, but, believe me, in what I have said I am thoroughly sincere.

In conclusion I would beg to say how much I regret being obliged to leave a place where my life and surroundings have been so pleasant and would beg you to believe that Edmonton and its people will be always warmly remembered by me.

I am, dear Sir, yours faithfully,

W. ANDERSON.

JAMES B. STEELE, Teacher.

"Geo. M. McDougall, pioneer patriot missionary," is the name of a book received by last mail; written by Rev. John McDougall, of Morley, and published by William Briggs, Toronto. The author does not cumber the work with verbiage but lets the subject of the sketch, who was his father, tell his own story as found in his journals, letters and other manuscripts—only filling in in narrative form the connecting links. The title fully expresses the character portrayed. He was a pioneer in the township of Floss; in Owen Sound—being the first Methodist member, the first teacher and owner of the first steamboat in the place; on the north of Lake Superior; north of Lake Winnipeg, and on the Upper Saskatchewan. He was a patriot in ever upholding British authority among the Indian tribes and frontiersmen and preaching loyalty to the sovereign as a divine precept. He was missionary at Alderville, Rama, Garden River, Norway House, Victoria, Edmonton and Morleyville. The whole story is told in the work mentioned, and will repay perusal and prove interesting to all, but especially to those who knew the man and his work among the Indians of the North Saskatchewan. The account of the small-pox scourge that nearly decimated the tribes of this country is probably more fully given here than anywhere else. The work is printed on good paper, in large type and tastefully bound. The frontispiece is a portrait of the subject of the book, which besides is embellished with illustrations of scenes and places in the west.

DURING the late campaign there was a good deal of argument as to the reasons for the union of the two late electoral districts of St. Albert and Edmonton, and for the added territory to the east not being allowed a separate representative. The reason may, perhaps, be found in the result of the vote. In the late Edmonton district the vote stood: Oliver 196, Wilson 152, a majority of 44 for Oliver, where at last election Wilson was elected by a majority of 9. The vote for Cunningham was 63 and for Maloney 62. In the late St. Albert district the vote was: Wilson 152, Cunningham 146, Oliver 76, Maloney 74. At the former election Cunningham was elected by acclamation. In the added territory the vote stood: Cunningham 110, Wilson 91, Oliver 77, Maloney 14. If these figures show anything they show that the object of uniting the two districts was to swamp public opinion in Edmonton by the St. Albert and outside vote.

THE St. Albert telephone line which was found not to be working on Saturday last, election day, was examined on Monday, when the break was found near the old Roman Catholic church. A pole had been lifted out and thrown down and the wire partly cut through with a file and then broken off.

THE new H. B. steamer for the Athabasca river was launched at the Landing on July 4th. She will be ready for business about the end of the month. The news of the launch was brought in by Mr. Williams in 18 hours. Distance 90 miles; no change of horses and roads fearfully bad.

Heavy rains are reported from Southern Alberta.

GENERAL.

Icelandic immigration to Red Deer district has commenced.

E. H. Scott, of Moose Jaw, advertises an application to the legislative assembly of the North-West for an act to enable him to register as a medical practitioner.

The Canada Gazette of June 23rd contains the appointment of Hon. John Christian Schultz as lieutenant-governor of Manitoba from July 1st.

The Regina Leader says that W. D. Perley is likely to resign his constituency in Eastern Assiniboia and that when Mr. Dewdney is appointed minister of interior he will run for that constituency.

Since the division of the offices of lieutenant-governor and Indian commissioner of the North-West the salary attached to the former will only be $4,000. There are rumors of Mr. Royal's striking for higher pay.

Lariviere has withdrawn from the contest for the local legislature in St. Boniface and is succeeded by Roger Marion in the Norquay interest. Ex sheriff of the North-West, E. Richard will enter the contest as an independent.

On Monday Hon. Dr. Schultz will be sworn in at Winnipeg as lieutenant-governor of Manitoba and on Wednesday at Regina, Hon. Jos. Royal will be sworn in as lieutenant-governor of the North-West. Mr. Royal left Toronto on the 29th for Regina.

Trounce & Co.'s contract for Indian beef supplies is at eight cents per pound, the contract being confined to the Sarcee reserve; the Cochrane company supply the Blood agency at six cents and fifty-nine hundredths per pound; Robt. Scott, the Stoney reserve, at eight cents; the Walrod company, the Piegan reserve, at six cents and eighty-three hundredths; Baker & Co., the Blackfoot agency, at six cents and seventy-four hundredths, also the industrial school at High river at ten cents a pound.

Lately the Regina Journal was a strong advocate of manhood suffrage. It has had occasion to change its opinion to some extent. In a recent article dealing with the then pending elections it says: "We consider the mounted police vote an issue. That men who are so entirely under the command of superiors, who can be moved from point to point by the authorities, should be allowed to veto the will of the 'free and independent,' as they can do in many constituencies, is contrary to the first principles of responsible government."

The late changes in the administrators of certain North-West offices are numerous. Hon. E. Dewdney as minister of interior, Hon. Jos. Royal as lieutenant-governor, Hayter Reed as Indian commissioner and A. E. Forget as assistant commissioner. Those who approved of Mr. Dewdney's administration in his late offices of lieutenant-governor and Indian commissioner will doubtless also find reasons for approving of his acts as minister of interior whatever they may be. The lieutenant-governorship has been shorn of some of its power and with an entirely representative legislature, if the members are so minded, what remains may soon be transferred to their keeping. As assistant Indian commissioner Mr. Reed performed the duties of commissioner during the past year or two, and it can only be expected that as commissioner he will continue the policy, which, as assistant commissioner, he commenced. The new assistant commissioner is a gentleman who has had a long experience in North-West affairs, having been clerk of the North-West council since it was first constituted, about '78. He assisted Lieutenant-Governor Laird in the administration of Indian affairs in the early days; was a member of the half-breed scrip commissions of '85 and '86; is thoroughly versed in all matters connected with the administration of public affairs in the North-West, and with the people as well; and commands the confidence and respect of all who know him as an able and honest man. The only objection that can be made to his appointment is that his admission to the Indian department bars the promotion for the time being of worthy men who have spent many years in the service of the department. But on the other hand the public will agree that that department will be none the worse for the bringing of a good live man into it.
